The Earshot Jazz Festival

"We're back with "Seattle's most important annual jazz event."

The Earshot Jazz Festival is back this year, featuring performances by local and internationally acclaimed artists in various Seattle locations! The festival will showcase today's top jazz talents for three weeks this autumn across the city. Each festival day offers a thoughtfully curated program that reflects the rich history, evolution, and essence of jazz worldwide and in our community. Described as "a festival of cutting-edge jazz" (JazzTimes), it commences on October 17 and concludes on November 3. In between, attendees can enjoy concerts by established icons and up-and-coming talents, highlighting the diversity and vibrancy of contemporary jazz music.
